Hello Ms. Scroggins,

Your question about which homes / families were tested is asking for private, confidential information that we do not release. However, the POLREPs, like the one you attached in your email, will be posted on the website that we set up for the Dimock site. The website address is www.epaossc.org/dimock_residential_groundwater. We will be uploading our documents to this website as we continue our work at the Dimock Residential Groundwater Site. It is a technical website, but it's open for public review. You should find more information there.

Sincerely,

Trish Taylor, Community Involvement Coordinator

EPA:

I found this EPA document shows their plan for testing;
where are the test results for the industrial chemicals mentioned in this document?? and who are the 11 families tested? are they the originally impacted ones?
